

Rifted in here is an extremely serious programme dressed as comedy that both savages and caresses prejudice so prejudice whirls about confused and can't find its way out.....This is an absolutely necessary and enagaging show we need to see back. The audience was packed, and exhilarated... SIMON JENNER, FRINGE REVIEW BRIGHTON. 2016.

This is as much a stand-up lecture as a show with slides whizzing by as fast as Paul's motor mouth and butterfly mind. There are glimpses into his happy marriage to a fellow Autistic woman and an emphasis on the importance of community for Autistic people who are asking for not just awareness but understanding. Anyone spending an hour in Paul's entertaining company will be further on the way to achieving it.

Review by Kate Fox. Stand-up poet and Radio 4 regular.
www.katefox.co.uk

A NEUROTYPICAL SOCIETY INFILTRATION MANUAL

GUERRILLA

Autistics

PAY WHAT YOU CAN

FREE FESTIVAL

The Edinburgh Festival fringe

The world's longest running solo show about being NeuroDivergent, Autistic, or on the spectrum that spans genres of Stand up, theatre and comedy.

NOW YOU CAN DETERMINE IT. An immersive, unique, funny, unpredictable audience menu selection experience.

Now in its Eighth year with a new format, new revelations and the same obsessing.

12:00 MIDDAY. 4TH TO THE 19TH AUGUST.

SCAN ME

Laughing Horse @ BAR 50
 ACCESS FROM COWGATE / INSIDE A&O HOSTEL The Alcove
 50 BLACKFRIARS STREET - EH1 1NE
 VENUE 151 - 0131 524 1989